Rhodesia Succeeds in Resisting British Intrusion

Last week Great Britain and Rhodesia settled the quarrel which led the mineral-rich South Africans to quit the British Commonwealth.

Apparently Rhodesia made its point stick: That under no circumstances would it permit the central London government to interfere with the colony's internal affairs. White Rhodesians, who had hewed a nation out of the wilderness of the extreme southern tip of Africa had separated whites and blacks into parallel groups. White Rhodesians said this was necessary because blacks vastly outnumbered whites and if a common voting franchise were given to all, the whites would eventually be forced to leave the country they had developed.

Whether the White Rhodesians were right or wrong in their viewpoint is beside the point. Some of the homeland English have a low boiling point, however, and filed an ultimatum against the African whites—and Rhodesia responded by walking out of the Commonwealth of Great Britain.

If Britain expected her ultimatum to result in Rhodesia falling over dead she met with disappointment. Rhodesia proposed these last several years "going it alone."

In due time Britain had second thoughts about her ultimatum, and put out the olive branch to Rhodesia, which quickly accepted it to show there was no real grudge on its side.

From where we sit it appears Rhodesia refused as in the past to grant universal suffrage to the blacks but made some stipulation this would take place in the future.

Senate Vote Continues Controls Unit 1973

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed 86 to 4 a bill permitting President Nixon to continue wage, price and rent controls through April, 1973.

The measure also contains a provision designed to give retroactive wage increases to most employees who lost them because of the Aug. 15-Nov. 14 pay freeze.

The Senate vote sent the legislation to the House where the Banking Committee is scheduled to meet again today in an effort to finish work on its version.

The panel failed on an 18-18

tie yesterday to clear the bill it had tentatively worked out. But various compromises were to be offered to break the deadlock.

Though the Senate rolled up an overwhelming vote for the bill, many members said they voted for it with great misgivings.

There was some confusion surrounding the retroactive pay feature—the major Senate addition to what Nixon originally said he wanted.

The administration resisted such increases during the freeze and has continued this stand since the Pay Board was established, despite organized labor's vociferous objections.

The Senate provision would allow raises negotiated before the Aug. 15 freeze so long as these were not "unreasonably inconsistent" with the 5.5 per cent guideline established by the Pay Board for Phase 2.

Sponsors said they wanted to make sure teachers and most others denied their raises would now receive them.

Late in the debate, the administration sent word it would accept this language; some senators speculated the White House was short of the votes needed to strike it from the bill and so decided to support retroactivity.

An AFL-CIO spokesman said labor lawyers were convinced the provision would obtain most of the retroactive raises labor is determined to get.

The House Committee has adopted a retroactive pay provision which the administration, strongly opposes. It calls for payment of the raises unless they are "grossly disproportionate" to the guidelines.

Collision Kills Lake Villagers

LAKE VILLAGE, Ark. (AP) — Two persons were killed Wednesday when the car in which they were riding collided with a tractor-trailer rig on U. S. 65 near Lake Village.

State Police identified the victims as Fred Fuller, 67, driver of the car, and Iles B. Bunn, 58, a passenger, both of Lake Village.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers acquired superstar Frank Robinson and traded slugger Richie Allen in separate deals today.

The Dodgers swapped the controversial Allen to the Chicago White Sox in exchange for pitcher Tommy John and infielder Steve Huntz. Then Los Angeles acquired Robinson from the Baltimore Orioles along with relief pitcher Pete Richert in exchange for four young players.

Wreckage of Helicopter Is Sighted

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. search aircraft today sighted the wreckage of a helicopter believed to be the CH47 Chinook that disappeared with 33 Americans aboard along the northern coast last Sunday.

Ground troops were en route to the crash site, the U.S. Command said.

The wreckage was spotted 12 miles southeast of Phu Bai, but because of the mountainous terrain, rain and low clouds search helicopters were not able to get a good look, the command said.

The CH47 Chinook was carrying five crewmen and 28 infantrymen of the 101st Airborne Division from Da Nang to Phu Bai, 50 miles north of Da Nang, when it vanished during a thunderstorm.

Pakistan Planes Strafe One Capital in India

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pakistani planes strafed the capital of India's Tripura State today, adjacent to East Pakistan's southeast border, an Indian government spokesman announced in New Delhi.

The spokesman said the Indian army had been ordered to take immediate "defensive action," indicating it would cross the border. The government used the same phrase in connection with the three previous advances into East Pakistan which it has admitted.

The Indian spokesman gave this account:

Five U.S.-supplied F86 Sabre Jets bombed and strafed the city of Agartala, 60 miles due east of Dacca, and its airport for 20 minutes this afternoon.

A number of civilians were killed or wounded, but anti-aircraft guns prevented any damage to the airfield.

Agartala has been under heavy shelling since 8 p.m. Wednesday, with artillery shells smashing into heavily populated areas and in the surrounding refugee camps for Bengalis from East Pakistan.

The shelling has killed four civilians and wounded 37.

The Pakistani army reported two new Indian ground attacks, but Pakistani military sources said the defenders held or repulsed all assaults.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi responded today to U.S. suspension of military shipments to her government with a declaration that India will follow its own policy toward Pakistan and will ignore any Western advice that her government feels is against India's national interest.

"The times have passed when any nation sitting 3,000 or 4,000 miles away could give orders to Indians on the basis of their color superiority to do as they wished," Mrs. Gandhi told members of her Congress party outside her residence.

Mrs. Gandhi did not directly mention the U.S. decision to cancel $2 million worth of military export licenses and to refuse all future licenses. But in obvious reaction to the U.S. move, she said: "The country is not so weak as to be afraid of any aid being cut off. Today we will do what is best in our national interest and not what these so-called big nations would like us to do."

The prime minister called again for the Pakistani army to withdraw from East Pakistan and in a new demand said Pakistani troops should also pull back from India's western border.

She did not promise any reciprocal Indian withdrawal.

U.S. Warns Against Use of MIGs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials say American war planes may retaliate against North Vietnamese airbases if Communist MIG fighters attack U.S. planes flying air strikes over the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos.

The hint came Wednesday from Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim who reported "North Vietnamese may be paring to threaten U.S. B-52s and other aircraft attacking the enemy infiltration routes leading into South Vietnam from Laos."

Friedheim said there have been 10 separate instances over the last two months in which MIG 19 and MIG 21 jet fighters flew briefly into Laos, occasionally firing air-to-air missiles.

No U.S. planes were hit and there was some doubt as to what the North Vietnamese were up to, Friedheim told newsmen, adding:

"We certainly couldn't be surprised if they have in mind here developing a capability to threaten aircraft" bombing and strafing the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Asked if the U.S. would bomb North Vietnamese airfields if American aircraft were attacked, Friedheim replied, "That would be an option open to us."

Later, Daniel Z. Henkin, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, said Gen. Creighton Abrams, the U.S. commander in Vietnam, "has the authority to take whatever action he deems necessary to protect American men."

U.S. planes have always enjoyed unchallenged air superiority over Laos in their intensive bombing campaign against the North Vietnamese supply lines.

Since the Lyndon B. Johnson administration 1968 decision to halt the almost-daily bombing of North Vietnam, there have been instances where enemy air bases were hit during what have been described as "protective reaction strikes" at anti-aircraft positions adjacent to the fields.

Perhaps it was just a coincidence, but three weeks ago on Nov. 7 and 8—the period when Friedheim said MIGs were again sighted over Laos—the U.S. flew "protective reaction" missions against anti-aircraft positions at Vinh and two other North Vietnamese airfields, Quang Lang, 48 miles north of Vinh, and at Dong Hoi, about 40 miles north of the DMZ where the U.S. command said the enemy guns fired at unarmed American reconnaissance planes.

Sources said the attack at Dong Hoi left runways pockmarked with bomb craters.

The only time a U.S. aircraft was shot down over Laos by a North Vietnamese MIG was in January 1970.

Party Members Vote to Support GOP Chairman

ROGERS, Ark. (AP) — The 3rd District Committee of the Arkansas Republican party has voted to affirm support for the leadership of state GOP Chairman Charles T. Bernard of Earle.

John R. Powers Jr. of Rogers, chairman of the district committee, said Wednesday that the action was taken in a closed meeting in Fort Smith Saturday.

He said there had been rumors that "a lot of people were unhappy with his leadership" and the committee "felt this was a proper action."

Powers said a four-member committee was appointed to advise Bernard, if the state chairman desired the help.

Ex-officers members of the committee will be Reps. Preston Bynum of Siloam Springs and George E. Nowotny Jr. of Fort Smith and Sen. Jim Caldwell of Rogers.

Possible Devaluation Plunges Dollar to New Lows in Europe, Japan

Dollar Dip Bigger Bark Than Bite

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Devaluation of the dollar would have a bigger bark than bite as far as the average American is concerned.

The question of devaluing the dollar—reducing its value in relation to other currencies—was a vital subject this week at a meeting in Rome of top finance officials of the 10 richest non-Communist nations.

The meeting of the Group of Ten ended Wednesday with reported progress but no agreement on means of solving the international monetary crisis. Another meeting was set for Dec. 17-18 in Washington.

The United States has been resisting demands of other countries for devaluation of the dollar. Those countries want an unstated increase in the American price of gold—$35 an ounce—to decrease the value of the dollar.

The free market price of gold is $43 an ounce. Even if the United States raised its dollar price to that amount, more than European nations are believed to be asking, the only direct effect in this country would be a possible reopening of previously unprofitable gold mines.

Devaluation in terms of gold, however, could ease the way for an upward revaluation of foreign currencies. And even if dollar devaluation in terms of foreign currencies were to come out of the Group of Ten negotiations, economists say it wouldn't hit the pocketbooks of individuals in this country to any appreciable extent.

"So far as the individual is concerned, this whole question so hotly debated in Rome couldn't matter less," said an economist for a major New York bank.

This would be the case, however, only if the individual confined his purchases to American goods and spent his vacations in the United States.

"In the long run," the bank economist said, "devaluation would produce more jobs in the United States and make U.S. goods more competitive abroad, especially with the goods produced by West Germany and Japan."

This would result because U.S. goods exported to other countries would be priced lower, therefore would be easier to sell.

Tax Cut Passes Minus Key Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees approved today a $15.8-billion tax cut bill after agreeing to defer the start of a controversial presidential campaign financing plan until after the 1972 elections.

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees grapple today with a controversial provision to finance presidential campaigns with federal income taxes, the only remaining issue in a battle between President Nixon and Democratic leaders over a tax bill.

In a day-long session Wednesday, the conference resolved all other differences between House and Senate versions of the legislation, stripping it of tax-relief amendments Nixon said were unacceptable.

The President threatened to veto the bill if it reaches him containing a provision allowing individuals to earmark $1 of their income taxes for presidential election expenses.

All parties would share the funds, but the financially strapped Democrats need them the most.

Despite the White House threats, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, House Appropriations Committee chairman and head of the House conferees, says the Democrats will hold fast on the check-off provision.

Mills told the Capital City Democratic Club Wednesday he doesn't think Nixon will veto the bill because it is a main part of his new economic program and another tax bill would face a rocky road.

Mills said, however, Nixon "sometimes does what others do not dare to do," and added: "He'll have the opportunity of passing judgment."

In earlier sessions, the conferees scaled down the tax-relief provisions to a level they believe the administration will accept. On Wednesday the committee:

—Discarded provisions authorizing the President to impose quotas, a surcharge of 15 per cent or other import restrictions to protect the balance of trade.

—Approved a compromise version of authorizing tax breaks to exporters. Half their income from exports would get the favored treatment.

LONDON (AP) — The possibility of devaluation sent the dollar plunging to record lows on major European exchanges today.

Market conditions were generally described as hectic and state banks in Paris and London were reported buying substantial amounts of dollars to slow the decline in value.

In Switzerland, banks were limiting dollar transactions to a maximum of a million per customer.

The dollar-selling wave was sparked by reports from a Rome meeting of the richest Western nations that the United States is ready to negotiate a dollar devaluation of perhaps 5 per cent against gold within a general realignment of world currency values. The official price of gold is now $35 an ounce and the unofficial price around $43.

Exchange operators expected a cut in the dollar's value to be announced after a further meeting of the Group of Ten non-Communist nations in Washington Dec. 17-18.

European stock markets also brightened at the prospect of an early end to international monetary and trade uncertainties after 3½ months of the crisis set off on Aug. 15 by President Nixon's announcement of his new economic program.

On the Frankfurt foreign exchange, the dollar plunged to a record low of 3.29 West German marks, compared to Wednesday's close of 3.3035 marks. Today's rate represented an increase in the mark's dollar value of 1¼ per cent since May when the West German money was set free to find its own level in the market.

The dollar was also at a record low in Zurich at 3.9305 Swiss francs against Wednesday's closing of 3.9547. This was a dollar devaluation of 3¼ per cent from the previous parity of 4.08 francs.

In Paris the situation was more complicated because of the French two-tier system set up to keep a so-called "commercial franc" used for 90 per cent of transactions, pegged closely to the dollar. There is also a "financial franc" used mainly by tourists which is permitted to fluctuate.

The commercial franc opened at its topmost level against the dollar of 5.5125, only to drop a short time later to 5.5125 despite heavy buying of dollars by the Banque de France.

The financial franc opened at 5.365, down from Wednesday's closing 5.405. Today's rate represented a 3¼ per cent up-valuing of the franc from parity.

In London, the pound opened in a range of $2.4940 to $2.4942 compared to Wednesday's closing $2.4939. This was almost a 4-per cent increase in the pound's dollar value from parity.

The dollar declined also against the Japanese yen in Tokyo, closing at 326.75, a new low. The previous low was 327.07 at closing on Wednesday.

Jail Facility Plan Unlikely

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state's prisons apparently will not have a facility within the proposed Pulaski County jail complex.

John Haley of Little Rock, Correction Board chairman, said Wednesday, "I won't rule it out, but it looks unlikely."

Mrs. Cynthia Houchin, administrative aide to Correction Commissioner Terrell Don Hut- to, said the possibility is not under consideration at present, although the idea has not been completely abandoned.

There had been talk of the prison system establish a new women's reformatory, a community treatment center for law violators or some other type of facility.

Business Warned About Wars Deaths Continue at Low Level

By MIKE SHANAHAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission has warned American businessmen against assuming they can pass the full cost of high wage increases on to their customers.

In reducing a requested price hike from a coal company, the commission Wednesday placed itself at odds with the Pay Board which recently okayed a 15 per cent wage and benefit increase for coal miners.

The decision also raised Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson to status as the dominant figure within President Nixon's apparatus for battling down inflation.

"This coal settlement was made after the wage guidelines were known," Grayson said in announcing that the Old Ben Coal Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of Ohio, would be allowed to pass along only 9.6 per cent of the wage hike.

From now on, Grayson said, the commission "will take a very careful look" at any request for a price hike based on wage settlements above the Pay Board's 5.5 per cent guideline.

Was he saying that firms which sign hefty wage contracts approved by the Pay Board are not yet "out of the woods" when they go before the Price Commission?

Grayson responded with a firm "yes."

In the case of Old Ben, the commission allowed a 3.78 per cent price increase. The firm had sought a 6.71 per cent hike.

Officials of the United Mine Workers said the commission's actions would have no effect on their newly negotiated contract.

But Carl E. Bagge, president of the National Coal Association, said in a sharply worded statement:

"If, with one hand, the government has approved a wage contract, another hand of government cannot legitimately compel the industry to operate at a loss."

Grayson said the same criteria used in limiting Old Ben will be applied across the board in the coal industry.

Grayson also described preliminary results of a survey the commission is taking of the pricing intentions of the nation's top 1,500 businesses.

Of 500 who answered a survey request, he said 20 per cent will not raise prices, 60 per cent said they would request modest increases and 20 per cent were noncommittal.

There were, meanwhile, these other economic developments:

—The Senate approved 86-4 and sent to the House a bill giving President Nixon a year's extension, to April 30, 1973, of broad powers over the economy.

—A buoyant stock market rallied with a strength some

Nixon, Premier of Israel Plan Talks

By ENDRE MARTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Golda Meir of Israel confers with President Nixon today in what is considered an effort to dispel misunderstandings between the two countries.

Although Mrs. Meir has softened her public comments on the U.S. position in the Middle East in the past few weeks, she is expected to insist once again that Israel needs more U.S.-built Phantom jet fighter-bombers.

The administration has halted Phantom deliveries to Israel, and officials said Mrs. Meir probably would get no firm commitment of renewed deliveries today.

Mrs. Meir also was to meet with Secretary of State William P. Rogers who told newsmen Wednesday night he believes the importance of the Phantom issue has been "exaggerated."

"We are involved in the security of Israel, and the President has said repeatedly that we are going to maintain that security," Rogers said.

He acknowledged he was "concerned by the Soviet shipment of airplanes to Egypt and also by warlike statements emanating from the Middle East."

Mrs. Meir hinted upon her arrival in Washington Tuesday that she was ready to start from scratch the arduous task of making peace in the Middle East.

Her remarks were more mellow than a few weeks ago when she angrily accused the United States of siding with Egypt on plans to reopen the Suez Canal.

"Any effort is better than the possibility of shooting," Mrs. Meir said.

U.S. officials said privately they were pleased by her softer tone.

Jury Probes Pope County Fee System

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — A Pope County Grand Jury was to continue hearing testimony today in connection with Pros. Atty. Alex G. Street's requested probe of a former fee system in Circuit Court in the county.

The jury met for about six hours Wednesday to consider testimony in the case. The investigation was expected to continue through Friday.

Circuit Judge Russell C. Roberts of Conway, under whom the system was practiced in Pope County, appeared before the jury. Among other witnesses was Reece Caudle, Pope County clerk. Former Pros. Atty. Jeff Mobley also was subpoenaed to testify.

Judge Harrell Simpson of Pocahontas, assigned by the state Supreme Court, presided over the empaneling of the jury.

Under the fee system, bonds were forfeited in felony cases by convicted defendants who received suspended sentences.

The state Supreme Court, in a decision early this year, ruled that such a system was illegal. The decision came in a taxpayers' suit.

Those who testified Wednesday said they were instructed by Simpson not to comment on the investigation. Grand Jury proceedings are secret.

Nixon Promises to Give Aged Attention

By JOHN STOWELL
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon promised today to give "close personal consideration" to the recommendations of a White House Conference on Aging and to seek legislation to ease the burden of property taxes, to improve pension plans and to promote job programs for older citizens.

Making a personal appearance, along with his wife, Pat, at the windup of the week-long conference Nixon said there must be a "new national attitude toward aging" to end a "throwaway psychology" and "re-open the doors of opportunity which have too often been closing on older men and women."

In a speech, the President expressed the need for passage of his family assistance plan which he said would deal with the problem of inadequate income for the older Americans by putting a national floor under their income and making Social Security benefits inflation-proof "for the first time in our history."

He also said he wants to improve programs for the aging by increasing the present budget for them by nearly five-fold "to the $100-million level."

Nixon said he was asking the conference chairman, Dr. Arthur Flemming, to stay on during the conference follow-up period and be his special consultant on aging.

Nixon said he has proposed a program to improve the nation's nursing homes and he reiterated "we will not hesitate to cut off funds from homes which are hopelessly substandard."

He said he wants to give special emphasis to services that will help people live "decent and dignified lives in their own homes." He said these include services such as home-health aides, home and nutrition services, home-delivered meals and transportation assistance. He said much of this new money would be used to help marshal existing and expanded resources more effectively at the local level.

The 3,500 delegates from throughout the country agreed almost unanimously, differing only in the amount, on the need for a minimum guaranteed annual income for old people.

"Direct action to increase the income of the elderly is urgent and imperative," said the income committee in urging a minimum of $4,500 a year for a retired couple and 75 per cent of that amount for an aged single person.

The goal, said the panel, is an "American standard of living" for those over 65, one out of four whom live in poverty compared with one out of nine for the rest of the population.

President Nixon's address to the elderly follows his meeting with a large representation of American youth at the National 4-H Congress in Chicago Wednesday.

He told the 3,000 4-H delegates the "generational walls" built up over the years were crumbling, with a time coming when all generations could work together to conquer hunger, poverty and disease.

The delegates to the aging conference expressed the belief increased federal aid might come from a variety of sources. Most frequently mentioned were general government revenues and higher Social Security benefits, generally well above the level in current legislation before Congress.

Black delegates urged at least $9,000 annually for retired couples.

The delegates said the money is available if the government will restructure its spending in favor of human needs rather than military and space programs.

Whether the conference recommendations will produce action remained in doubt.

Heavy Snow Slated for N. Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It looks like Arkansas is going to have its first substantial snowfall of the season.

The National Weather Service is predicting snow for the northern regions of the state, reaching down to the central portions.

The weather service says that there will be snow accumulations of two inches or more in the extreme northwest and north central portions late this afternoon and tonight.

According to the forecast the Little Rock area should be the southern edge of the snow area with the forecast calling for rain beginning this afternoon, possibly becoming mixed with snow tonight and continuing into Friday.

Lows tonight will be in the low 30s in the north to near 40 in the south. Highs Friday will be in the mid 30s and mid 40s.

The highs Wednesday ranged from 45 at Harrison to 54 at Texarkana.

Overnight lows were Fayetteville, 33; Harrison, 30; Jonesboro, 31; Pine Bluff, 36; Texarkana, 39; El Dorado, 38; Memphis, 33; Little Rock, 36; and Fort Smith 37.

Pipes Polluting Arkansas River

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A map and an affidavit filed in U.S. District Court here Wednesday lists 39 pipes and culverts spilling waste into the Arkansas River of tributaries.

Deputy Pros. Atty. Arthur J. Anderson of Little Rock filed the items, which list pipes whose owners are unknown.

Unless the owners come forward to defend the discharges, the pipes may be sealed, Anderson said.

The 39 were among more than 100 found last summer, but the owners of the others have been determined.

The list also includes some owned by the Little Rock and North Little Rock sewer departments. Anderson said they were listed because unauthorized persons have tied onto the lines.

The sources said that while the Cambodian command was reporting fighting was still raging at Baray, the town 60 miles northeast of Phnom Penh was in fact evacuated Wednesday by several battalions of government troops.

The sources said the soldiers retreated 12 miles north through rice paddies to the town of Taing Krasing, bypassing the embattled Cambodian garrison at the town of Kompong Thmar on Highway 6.

Heavy fighting, frequently hand-to-hand, was reported at Kompong Thmar, and the sources said the town would also be abandoned today.

Military observers said the fall of Baray was the worst defeat the Cambodian government had suffered in its 20-month-old war with the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. Baray has been the forward headquarters of the Tchenla 2 operation on the northeast front and the town was defended by the 1st Brigade Group, considered one of the army's best fighting units.

U.S. B52s and A37 light bombers joined in an attempt to slow the North Vietnamese onslaught on the western side of the Mekong River.

Intelligence officers said the enemy division had been heavily reinforced for the battle, which erupted Wednesday at Baray and Kompong Thmar after several days of increased enemy activity.

The sources said the 20,000 troops who have taken part in Tchenla 2, which drove north up Highway 6, were being concentrated at more easily defensible points instead of being strung out along the highway.

Cambodians Abandon One Town

By ROBIN MANNOCK
Associated Press Writer
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodian forces have abandoned the town of Baray after repeated attacks by the North Vietnamese 9th Division, bringing the 20,000-man northeastern front to the point of collapse, authoritative sources reported today.

The sources said that while the Cambodian command was reporting fighting was still raging at Baray, the town 60 miles northeast of Phnom Penh was in fact evacuated Wednesday by several battalions of government troops.

Buys Rights to Memoirs of Mrs. Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — Doubleday & Co. has bought the rights to the autobiography of Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy for $1,525,000—one of the largest sums paid by a single publisher for a memoir.

Mrs. Kennedy, 81, was reported to have begun writing her memoirs a year ago and was expected to complete a 150,000-word manuscript next year with the aid of writer Robert Coughlin.

For some years publishers have been hoping for a first-hand account of Mrs. Kennedy's life as the daughter of a Boston politician, wife of a multimillionaire and diplomat and mother of President John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy's income from the sale of the book will be donated to the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation for the Mentally Retarded, a charity for which she has long been active.

Thanksgiving and November birthdays were the occasion for a party given the children of the Hemstead Child Development Center by the Hope Junior Auxiliary. Pictured with the children are Mrs. Mike McMurrough, assistant director of the Center, and Mrs. Doug Haynie, a member of the Auxiliary. Each child was presented a small token gift and the two birthday honorees each received a special present. Festive turkey hats provided the decorations and holiday refreshments were served. The Hemstead Child Development Center is only one of the child oriented projects supported by the Hope Junior Auxiliary.

THE GENERATION GAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

(GOT A PROBLEM? Or a subject for discussion, two-generation style? Direct your questions to either Sue or Helen—or both, in care of this newspaper, if you want a combination mother-daughter answer.)
She'd Be a "Friend in Need"
Dear Sue and Helen:

There's a guy in my class I really dig. Bill has been having a lot of problems lately: school, job, money—and his girl doesn't help a bit. These troubles are tearing him up inside, and it seems she just doesn't care about them. She just wants him around to help HER out of jams, etc.

Is it okay to lend him a hand in solving his problems, even if he's got a girl? Also, how can I step over the line and be more than a—FRIEND WITH A HELPING HAND

Dear Friend:
You really care about this guy, so go ahead and listen out his problems—but only as a good friend. Let HIM step over the "friendship" line first—after he stops digging the other girl. That way you won't make a fool of yourself. K? K!—SUE

Dear Friend:
Listeners sometimes aren't winners—unless they're go-getters, too. If a girl doesn't step over the line in subtle ways (boost his ego, look your best for him, flirt a bit) she may be left at the starting post.

I'm a great believer in giving fate a good hearty shove! Okay, Sue? Okay!—HELEN
Dear Helen and Sue:

What do you think of today's far-out weddings? A big wedding with lots of attendants and a banquet at an exclusive country

Rumors of Royal Romance Denied

LONDON (AP) — Princess Anne involved in a royal row over a reported romance with a commoner?

"Rubbish," decries Buckingham Palace.
And talk of a romance itself was described today by a palace spokesman as "pure speculative gossip."

U.S. columnist Earl Wilson reported that the daughter of Queen Elizabeth II wanted to marry Richard Meade, an Olympic horseman. He said the queen had forbidden the princess to see Meade.

The royal spokesman said that Princess Anne, 21, had known the 32-year-old Meade for three or four years. "He is numbered among her friends," the spokesman stated.

The princess is a keen horsewoman with aspirations of making Britain's Olympic showjumping team.

club featured the wealthy young bride (not a divorcee or widow) in a black velvet gown. Reminded me of Morticia in that old TV series.

Another recent union between a big city girl and a boy from a proper "First family" of Virginia was a study in contrasts. The groom's family dressed in excellent taste, but the bride's jersey gown looked for all the world like a lounging robe, and her mother wore an evening gown at 2 o'clock in the afternoon!

I don't mind garden ceremonies and guitars instead of organs, but brides in mini skirts or hot pants, weddings on water skis? These things I can't abide. Am I being stuffy?—SOMEWHAT TRADITIONAL
Dear Somewhat:

Traditions are fine, but they get worn out after a while. A wedding is individual and personal and I think it should be whatever the guy and girl want—not what has always been considered "proper."

...Even if it's eloping from a basement window!—SUE
Dear Somewhat:

A wedding is "theirs" not "ours." If they want a barefoot ceremony at dawn in a meadow, with wreaths of wild flowers and dancing later in the dew, so be it.

I too enjoy anything different and unusual, but don't feel badly, "S.T.": most people still agree with you. It's just that big formal "traditional" weddings have always turned me slightly off.—HELEN Dear Helen:

Did you ever hear again from "El Fin," the girl who wouldn't give her name and address and was about to overdose because she thought nobody cared?—???
Dear All of you who have Wondered and Worried About "El Fin":

I'm tremendously glad to report that "El Fin" is alive and well, back in school, relating again to her parents, headed for college—and dating a great guy. In a recent letter (she sent her name and address this time) she tells me that an undiagnosed physical problem had produced extreme depression—which she tried to "cure" with drugs.

She says in part, "Helen, I'd really like to thank and hug you, and all those who wrote me through your column, for showing me I wasn't alone."

Perhaps these column-letters were the turning point, giving El Fin courage to level with her parents. A hurry-up trip to the hospital revealed that her troubles came primarily from a disease that can be controlled with proper treatment. And she's getting it—plus mental therapy too.

She adds, "No drugs, no booze, no Jesus-freaking—just me and my guy and life to believe in. And that's more than enough..."
Ah, happy endings. Aren't they great?—HELEN

Washington Wants New Major Baseball Team

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "Shocked" when the Washington Senators skipped town, lawmakers in the nation's capital have begun to pitch for a new major league franchise.

They made their first big delivery Wednesday at the winter baseball meetings ... and threw a curve in the process.

A delegation of congressmen and community leaders from Washington expressed their strong desire for a team while baseball officials listened patiently for hours.

After the meeting, there was a hint of pressure from Washington if baseball doesn't come through by 1973.

"We must have a team in Washington by 1973," Joseph Dansansky, president of the city's board of trade, told a news conference.

What if baseball doesn't satisfy the demand? "We'll run over that bridge when we come to it," Rep. B.F. Sisk, R-Cal. said in a curt tone.

Sisk went on, softening his platform: "We are here on the request of the leadership of Congress. We are reasonable men working for the good of baseball. We don't want to hurt baseball."

Washington was caught short when the Senators pulled out of town for Dallas-Fort Worth last September. Owner Bob Short blamed financial difficulties.

"We've gone through a shock and sometimes a shock awakens you," said Sisk. "We realize that we took major league baseball for granted. We're not here to cry over spilled milk."

Other members of the delegation which flew 2,500 miles to appear before Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and the 24 major league owners were Rep. Frank Horton, R-NY; Rep. Melvin Price, D-ILL.; Rep. Joel Brodyhill, D-Va.; Walter Washington, mayor of the nation's capital; Gilbert Hahn, chairman of the city council and John Kaufmann, president of the Washington Evening Star.

"We had a very satisfying meeting," said Kuhn. "Baseball is flattered to have this delegation here. We will study the problem and see if a solution can be found."

Sisk, echoing the delegation's determined stand, said: "We are absolutely certain of ample resources to adequately finance baseball in Washington. Whether it is an expansion team, or a club moving from another city or a club sold to interests to move to Washington makes no difference. Any alternative is acceptable to us."

The delegation presented a petition signed by 238 members of Congress supporting the return of baseball to Washington. Rep. Horton was quick to point out the imposing number of lawmakers.

"We are a bipartisan group," said Rep. Horton, "and 238 signatures is more than a majority of the Congress."

The delegates were also armed with a letter from Rep. Emmanuel Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. Celler pointedly stressed that baseball had long been exempt from antitrust laws. He indicated that the favorable position could change.

"Now, as never before, there is growing recognition that the owners, who in the name of the public interest successfully maintain their blanket exemption from our antitrust laws, occasionally exhibit precious little concern for the community welfare," said the Celler letter.

Danzansky insisted that a new team wouldn't be troubled by money problems like the old Washington franchise because "we have as much money as we need."

Kuhn said the Washington group had described in detail "the strong feeling for baseball in Washington. They did not ask for a decision at this time but asked for a committee of baseball people to work with them." The commissioner said he would name a panel to work with the Washington group.

The major leagues took over center-stage Wednesday, shifting the winter meeting site to Phoenix after the minors closed up shop in the morning at near-by Scottsdale.

The majors went through a series of private, unspectacular sessions and there was no explosive trading action like the four big deals that highlighted the first two days of the meetings Monday and Tuesday.

The American and National leagues hold separate meetings today as the week-long baseball affair continues.

Texas Tech Stuns Western Kentucky

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Texas Tech struck a mighty lick for Southwest Conference basketball prestige Thursday night.

The Red Raiders stunned Western Kentucky 95-87 at Lubbock behind the 27 points by Greg Lowery and the 15-rebound performance of a towering 6-foot-10 junior college transfer, Ron Richardson.

The Hilltoppers were the third place team in the NCAA playoffs last year.

In other games involving SWC clubs, Mississippi upset Texas in Austin 79-78, Arkansas edged Georgia Southern 93-91, and Texas Christian rallied for an 87-78 victory over Oklahoma City on the road.

Lowery said the Red Raiders were "really looking forward to playing against Western Kentucky. I told people I talked to before the game to come on out because I knew we were ready to play."

A crowd of 7,525 fans braved sleet, snow and cold rain to watch the intersectional tussle.

Richardson, a junior college transfer from Compton, Calif., popped in 15 points besides his rugged rebounding.

"I was pleased with our rebounding," said Tech Coach Gerald Myers, who noted Tech outrebounded the Hilltoppers 58-38. "Richardson and Steve Nixum did a good job on the boards. We were hustling that's the main thing."

Texas Christian overcame an early 13-point deficit to blister the Chiefs in their backyard. The Horned Frogs trailed 43-34 at halftime.

Jim Ferguson scored 22 points for the Horned Frogs and made a key free throw that helped TCU gain the lead 58-57.

Tom Jordan hit two clutch free throws with 11 seconds left as Mississippi nicked Texas.

Senior guard Scooter Lennox led the Longhorns with 23 points. Duane Boucher was high for Ole Miss also with 23 points.

Doug Bass hit two free throws to give Arkansas' runnin' Razorbacks victory over the surprisingly tough Georgians.

In games tonight, Western Kentucky is at Baylor, Rice is at North Carolina, Vanderbilt is at SMU and Texas Wesleyan is at Texas A&M.

Nicklaus Has Dead Aim on Trevino

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, his fearsome game in gear, has set dead aim on Lee Trevino and the leading money winning spot going into the last two weeks of the pro golf tour.

The Golden Bear, winner of the PGA championship earlier this year, served notice he's the man to beat in the $150,000 Walt Disney World Open Golf Tournament Wednesday when he cruised around the 6,924-yard, par-72 Magnolia course in a sterling 65.

That gave him a share of first place in the pro-am with Bert Yancey in the individual scoring, but his team score of 58 wasn't good enough to beat Pete Brown at 57.

"In 10 years on the pro tour, I've never won a team program," Nicklaus said.

Nicklaus, his position as the game's premiere player threatened by Trevino's mid-summer surge, won three of his last four starts and finished third last week.

Now he's closing in on Trevino for the prestigious money-winning spot going into today's first round in this new event. Trevino, who leaped into the

Southern Cal Upset by Arizona State

By ALEX SACHARE

"I'm not concerned whether we look good or bad," declared Maryland basketball coach Lefty Driesell, "only whether we win or lose."

Driesell's Terps, ranked sixth in The Associated Press preseason poll, looked something less than good against Brown Wednesday night, but did manage to defeat the Bruins 100-83 in one of the key games on the opening night of the 1971-72 college basketball season.

In the night's major upset, third-ranked Southern Cal, which lost only two games—both to UCLA—last year, fell before unranked Arizona State 96-78 at Tempe, Ariz.

In other games involving the Top Ten, No. 4 Marquette overpowered St. John's, Minn. 89-50, No. 5 Ohio State got by Georgia Tech at Atlanta 63-55, No. 7 Houston defeated Stanford 87-67, Florida, playing at home, upended No. 9 Louisville 70-69 and No. 10 Kentucky turned back Northwestern 94-85.

No. 1 UCLA, No. 2 North Carolina and No. 8 Long Beach State did not play.

"The young players were probably a little bit tight," conceded Driesell, speaking about his sophomore-studded line-up.

One of those youngsters, heralded sophomore Tom McMillen, scored 16 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, but was not overjoyed by his performance.

"I wasn't very nervous, but I became a little frustrated," the 6-foot-11, former Pennsylvania high school star said. "It seems like I always have a game like that my first game of the year."

Southern Cal, considered a threat to dethrone UCLA as Pacific 8—and NCAA—champions, ran into a sizzling shooting performance by the Sun Devils. Arizona State sank 50 per cent of its field goal attempts, with Rhea Taylor scoring 22 and Bill Kennedy adding 21. Paul Stoval chipped in with 17 points and 13 rebounds.

Southern Cal, meanwhile, could hit on only 33 per cent of its shots.

Marquette proved too much for little St. John's, Minn. Jim Chones, the Warrior's pivotman, scored 24 points, grabbed 17 rebounds and blocked six shots, prompting raves from his coach, Al McGuire.

Luke Witte, Ohio State's 7-footer, poured in 20 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to spark the Buckeyes. Guard Dan Ger-

Slim Pickin's-- Nebraska and Penn State Games Are Prime Attractions on Sparse Schedule

The Old Boy Himself

Egad, friends, this week's collegiate schedule is a slim one but what it lacks in quantity is more—kaif-kaif—than made up for in quality!

Mighty Nebraska (11-0), all-conquering Penn State (10-0), and the valiant Oklahoma Sooners (9-1), will see action in three of the five games on the card.

Here is the way The Hoopie System sees 'em:

Nebraska 56, Hawaii 6. Coach Bob Devaney takes his No. 1 rated Nebraska team to Honolulu for some rest and relaxation following their thrilling victory over Oklahoma. The Hawaii Rain-bows, resolute as they may be, will provide little more than a tune-up scrimmage for the Cornhuskers who will be looking ahead to their New Year's night Orange Bowl clash with second-ranked Alabama!

Penn State 28, Tennessee 21. The Nittany Lions, shooting for their 11th victory in 1971, figure to have an offensive edge over the rugged Volunteers. The invading Penn Staters, led by rampaging Lydell Mitchell, have averaged 44.3 points-per-game this season while Tennessee has scored at a 22.5 points-per-game clip while winning 8 and losing 2. The Nittany Lions must bear in mind that the Vols' two losses ing a 4-5 record to date. In what we see as a very close game the host Hurricanes will emerge victorious.

San Diego St., 31, No. Texas St., 17. Under the lights of their home field the San Diego Aztecs will run their lifetime record against the Eagles to 3-0. The golden arm of the Aztecs' Brian Sipe will be too much for the tenacious Eagles to overcome.

John Hutchcraft scored 31 points to lead State College of Arkansas to a 72-68 Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference victory over Arkansas College Wednesday night.

Hutchcraft, a 6-6 freshman from St. Charles, scored 19 of the points in the second half.

David McDaniel led Arkansas College with 20 points.

In other AIC action, Ouachita defeated Hendrix 69-67, Henderson whipped Arkansas AM&N 79-70 and Murray State rolled over Arkansas Tech 79-66.

Jim Hamilton hit a shot from under the basket with 35 seconds remaining to lift Ouachita to victory over Hendrix. It was the season opener for both teams.

Ouachita's attack was led by Hamilton, who hit 28 points. Danny Thomas scored 24 to pace Hendrix.

Sam Witherspoon scored 32 points as Henderson defeated Arkansas AM&N. Pink Brown led AM&N with 21 points.

Les Taylor hit 15 of 25 shots from the field and eight of 12 from the free throw line as Murray rolled over Tech in a non-conference game.

Ron Edmunds paced the Wonder Boys with 21 points.

Unitas Named NFL Offensive Player of Week

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It was like watching the precision of a watchmaker, the coolness of a surgeon, the flash of a swordsman, the supreme confidence of a general.

In short, it was an old pro at work.

It was Johnny Unitas of Baltimore, stepping up to the line, surveying the scene, then methodically destroying the Oakland Raiders.

He only threw the ball 16 times, completing 10 of the passes for 119 yards, and didn't connect for a touchdown in his three quarters of work—but statistics don't even begin to tell the story of Sunday's 37-14 demolition by the Colts.

Losing Coach John Madden expressed it best. "They are the world champions," he said, "and they certainly played like it."

And for his subtle, yet devastating play-calling, Unitas was selected today as The Associated Press Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The 16-year veteran beat out a host of runners, including Clint Jones of Minnesota and Vic Washington and Ken Willard of San Francisco.

The man who gave Unitas the ball, center Bill Curry, said it's "exciting to play with John 'cause you never know what he's going to call."

"The guy in front of me doesn't know 'cause we don't know ourselves," he said. "You just can't type him. If you try, he'll just come up with an unexpected play—like that (10-yard) trap Tom Matte scored on."

"It looked like an obvious pass—except to John. After that kind of a play is over, you say to yourself, 'Now why didn't I think of that?'"

It was only Unitas' second start of the season, although he had been used sparingly throughout the year as he recovered from an Achilles operation last April.

"Today I gained consistency," he said. "You have to get the general feel of the game—what the other team's trying to do—to recognize things more readily. It's a case of reading and reacting, and you can't do it unless you're in the game. You still have to play to stay sharp, even after 16 years."

Montreal Moves to Second Place in NHL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Montreal hockey fans gave former Canadian goalie Rogatien Vachon a warm reception before his ex-teammates showered him with an icy greeting.

Vachon, who was married Tuesday in Burlington, Vt., was a surprise starter for the Los Angeles Kings Wednesday night. In his first appearance in Montreal since the Canadiens traded him to Los Angeles last month, the diminutive goalie was bombarded with 50 shots and was beaten 5-3.

"Sure, I was nervous," said the new bridegroom, "especially after that first goal they scored."

He was referring to Claude Larose's goal at the 18-second mark of the opening period.

The Kings battled back and went ahead 3-1 on goals by Ross Lonsberry, Juha Widing and Mike Byers before Phil Roberto scored for the Canadiens at 2:46 of the final period. Then, two goals by Jacques Lemaire and one by rookie Guy Lafleur within a three-minute span of the final period spoiled Vachon's evening.

"They just kept pouring in and we kept backing up," he said.

Before the game, Vachon was received warmly by the 15,893 fans, and got an especially big hand during a stoppage in play. The Canadiens later left him with a cold feeling.

The victory lifted Montreal into undisputed possession of second place in the East Division, two points behind New York and two points in front of

Cavaliers Over Houston for 5th Straight Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
"What the hell, let's fly first class," Bill Fitch said recently—and his Cleveland Cavaliers have been doing just that ever since.

And if the coach of the suddenly rampaging National Basketball Association club keeps his word, it'll be riding in the front of the plane for the rest of the season.

The Cavs, pulling within a game of idle first-place Baltimore in the Central Division, reeled off their fifth consecutive victory Wednesday night as Charlie Davis came off the bench to pump in 11 fourth-quarter points and power Cleveland to a 116-110 triumph over Houston.

In other action, Chicago beat Cincinnati 109-101, Atlanta defeated Detroit 117-103, Los Angeles belted Boston 124-111, Philadelphia slipped by Seattle 102-98 and Phoenix bombed Portland 139-103.

Last Saturday night, following a victory in Atlanta—the Cavs' third in a row—Fitch decided to splurge a little and fly the team home first class.

An NBA ruling requires first-class treatment only on flights of two hours or more—the Atlanta-to-Cleveland run is less than that—but Fitch was feeling expansive.

"I told them," Fitch said of his players, "that if they won five in a row they'd go first class all season. I'm ready to take them first class if they're ready to meet the challenge."

They met it against the Rockets with balance. Butch Beard led the Cavs with 21 points, John Johnson and Bobby Smith had 20 apiece, Davis had 19 and Austin Carr 16 while Rick Roberson hauled down 18 rebounds.

"I believe in momentum," said Fitch. "They had it going for them last year at this time—but it was a different kind of streak." A year ago the Cavaliers were 1-26. They managed just 15 victories all season. Now they're 9-14.

Chicago's Bulls edged within 3½ games of first-place Milwaukee in the Midwest Division, and dropped Cincinnati to a tie with Cleveland, by riding Bob Love's big first half to a 15-point lead, then stifling Royals rallies.

Love finished with 36 points, 24 of them in the first two periods as the Bulls built a 55-40 margin. But Cincinnati chipped away at the lead, trimming it to as little as six points, before falling short. Guard Nate Archibald of the Royals led all scorers with 42 points, 29 of them in the final two periods.

Atlanta, with "Pistol Pete" Maravich getting his highest point output since returning from a bout with mononucleosis, snapped a six-game losing streak by handing the Pistons their fifth straight setback.

Maravich and Herm Gilliam had 23 points apiece, second only to teammate Lou Hudson's 26, and Walt Bellamy added 21 as the Hawks, leading only 65-64 midway in the third period, took advantage of several Detroit turnovers to turn the game into a rout. Jimmy Walker of Detroit led all scores with 27.

NEW YORK (AP) — Tad Mosel's 11-year-old play, "All The Way Home," was given a poignant, skillful production Wednesday night on NBC.

As usual with "Hall of Fame" programs, it was a meticulous and handsomely mounted production. Also as usual, it was beautifully acted. The cast was headed by Joanne Woodward, Richard Kiley and an extraordinary young boy named Shane Nickerson.

The play was an account of a family's reaction when the husband and father was killed in an auto accident, and it concentrated on the wife and 6-year-old son.

The principals—husband, wife and child—were introduced in a situation that led to a difference of opinion, which was revealing of their life together. They obviously loved each other deeply, but he had conquered an alcohol problem and the wife was extremely religious. This was followed by a scene when they and other members of their family—his aged parents and an obnoxious brother—visited his 103-year-old grandmother, all to set up further family relationships.

Jay went off to his death the following day. Joanne Woodward, as the wife was excellent and her shock and hysteria as a widow was impressive. Richard Kiley made the husband a quixotic character. Pat Hingle's loudmouth brother was a solid study. The boy was utterly appealing and convincing.

Something vital, however, was missing—lost undoubtedly in reducing a full-length play to 60 minutes including the commercials. The viewer did not have quite enough time to understand Jay—a mixture of warmth and affection plus something of a loner. At any rate, his death was less affecting than it was in the play.

NBC's Board of Directors has elected David C. Adams as its chairman effective the first of the year. Retiring Chairman Walter D. Scott, who has been with NBC and its parent RCA for 33 years, will continue as a director.

Adams, an attorney, has been with the network since 1947 and for the past two years has served as executive vice president.

Nielsen ratings for the week ending Nov. 21 put CBS' "All in the Family" in first place, followed by ABC's "Movie of the Week," a film about troubled teenagers, "Mr. and Mrs. Bo Jo Jones," starring Desi Arnaz Jr., "Marcus Welby, M.D." was third.

Please Be Careful About What You Send Him for Christmas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Please, please, please—don't send me an adenoid for Christmas!

Or the deed to a square inch of Texas either. Or two live tropical birds. Or a cobra-skin necktie.

One of the trials of being a columnist is the habit some readers have of bombarding him with unexpected weird gifts. Some of them are rather hard to dispose of.

The adenoid came in a test tube full of alcohol. You'd be amazed how few people want to buy a second-hand adenoid. I did, however, have a few bids for the alcohol.

I gave the cobra-skin necktie to a teen-ager. The two birds died. The deed to a square inch of Texas I put away in a safe.

Say They Gave Special Checks to Sheriff

MARION, Ark. (AP) — Former Crittenden County deputy sheriffs James H. Tarver and Louis Tickell testified in Circuit Court here Wednesday they had signed over special paychecks to Sheriff Marion Thomas.

The testimony came in the second day of the trial of the Crittenden County sheriff on 56 counts of embezzlement involving a total of $34,773.77. The prosecutor's office has completed presentation of evidence on 17 of the 56 counts. The trial is expected to continue for at least another week. It began Monday.

Tickell said he signed over a special $200 paycheck to Thomas at the sheriff's request. He said Thomas came into his office late one night and said the procedure was a legal way for Thomas to get money he needed.

Tickell also testified that he had signed over one or possibly two other special paychecks to Thomas.

Tarver said that Thomas also handed him a $200 check and at Thomas' request.

Tarver testified the sheriff used the money to purchase three guns. One of the guns went to Thomas, one went to Tarver and Tarver sold the third to another man for $60 and gave the money to Thomas, Tarver testified.

Under cross-examination, Tarver admitted he was being sued by Thomas for failing to pay a bank loan which Thomas had guaranteed for Tarver. Tarver said he held no grudge against the sheriff.

The carcass of your yuletide turkey. The wishbone, however, will be welcomed—if properly cleaned.

Photos of your latest grandchild taken while the baby was lying face down on a tattered buffalo robe.

A wornout light bulb from your Christmas tree. You may send a few dried-up needles in an envelope if you really think the tree was all that beautiful.

A hearing aid built in 1923 which no longer works.

A deck of pornographic playing cards. They simply break up a poker game, and three of them disappear everytime you try to play a hand.

A stringless zither you found while cleaning the attic.

That spiked German helmet which you brought home after the first World War—and which your 49-year-old son has finally tired of playing with.

A broken electric toothbrush. All this may sound like I'm brash and a bit of a curmudgeon. This isn't true. I like Christmas as much as anyone else. I just don't like getting Christmas presents I have no worldly use for.

So, if you want to send me a Christmas gift, send me a kind word. Nobody gets enough of these.

Super Market to Operate on Fulltime Basis

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — The Mr. T Super Market chain is instituting around-the-clock services, seven days a week, 365 days a year with no holidays.

Dale Goodman, manager of the Mr. T store in Conway, said that so far as he knows no other supermarket in Arkansas is open fulltime.

Mr. T has stores in Conway, Cabot, Searcy and Sylvania Hills. The Cabot store will be closed on Sundays because of a "blue law" regulation, Goodman said.

The new hours may be withdrawn after a period of time "if it doesn't prove out," Goodman said, but he added that the chain would not "back down in a few days or a few weeks."

Only a skeleton staff will be on duty after midnight, he said.

To inaugurate the new hours, Mr. T advertises specials during a 10-hour period. A five-pound bag of sugar, for example, sells for 19 cents between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m.

Insists on Date for Withdrawal

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's insistence that the foreign aid bill contain his amendment calling for withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Indochina in six months apparently is complicating efforts to resolve Senate-House differences on the bill.

A conference committee meets again today after swapping new proposals Wednesday that narrowed many other differences in the House and Senate versions of the bill.

Conferees agree the Mansfield amendment and two others aimed at tightening control over U.S. operations in Southeast Asia more than money differences are blocking an agreement.

Rep. Thomas Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, responded to Mansfield's intransigence Wednesday by opposing a suggested compromise providing for a separate House vote on the withdrawal amendment if agreement can be reached on the rest of the aid bill.

"I won't do that," he told reporters.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., emphasized the lack of agreement, but Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., spoke of "a real chance for progress" as a result of the new proposals from the two sides.

On money, the House lowered its $3.4 billion bill to just below $3 billion while the Senate conferees went up a bit from their $2.6 billion total.

Authority runs out Monday for the Agency for International Development to spend money at an annual rate of about $2.6 billion, but officials said there would be little real pressure for a new bill until it gets close to AID's scheduled Dec. 21 payday.

Leftists Are Losing Out in Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Only 10,134 votes separated the rival Colorado and National parties today in their battle for Uruguay's presidency. The outcome may not be known for weeks, but the two traditional parties had turned back the first serious leftist challenge in Uruguayan political history.

The latest official results gave the Colorados 575,690 votes, the Nationals 565,556, and the leftist coalition known as Broad Front 262,390.

But the Interior Ministry, after a laborious 26-hour count, announced early today that some 70 ballot boxes were missing. They could contain more than 25,000 votes.

An estimated 100,000 absentee ballots also remained to be counted after being checked by the Interior Ministry, and this could take several weeks.

The ministry appealed on radio and television for election officials from the precincts where the ballot boxes disappeared to report in today in an effort to help find the missing ballots.

The Colorado candidate, Agriculture Minister Juan M. Bordaberry, claimed victory, but this was disputed by the Nationals, who planned to file a protest with the Electoral Court on behalf of their candidate, Sen. Wilson Ferreira Aldunate.

The Broad Front, a coalition of leftist parties, also claimed that Sunday's election "abounded in irregularities."

In his victory statement, Bordaberry vowed to maintain President Jorge Pacheco Areco's "hard hand" policy against communism, labor and student agitation and the Tupamaro guerrillas. The constitution prohibits Pacheco Areco from serving consecutive terms.

Ferreira Aldunate, seeking to get the Nationals back into power for the second time this century, advocated a middle road between Pacheco Areco's tough stance and the Broad Front.

All elective offices in the country were at stake, and the winners will take office March 1.

Claims Youth Seemed 'High on Something'

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Cummins Prison Farm Supt. A. I. Lockhart testified Wednesday that a youthful offender who died Monday at Cummins appeared to be "high on something."

Lockhart spoke of the death of Willie Stewart, 17, of Little Rock, who was convicted at Conway for burglary and given a three-year suspended sentence and a one-day prison term that ended in his death.

Lockhart said he observed Stewart in the office of Thomas Pirtle, chief of security at Cummins. He said Stewart was lying on the floor. Lockhart said he asked Stewart if he was all right and Stewart replied that nothing was wrong.

Lockhart's testimony came in U.S. District Court at a hearing into conditions at the state's prisons.

Correction Commissioner Terrell Don Hutto said Wednesday he had been told Stewart had not been acting "right" in the work fields.

Hutto said he was at the prison at the time of the incident. He said he was told that Stewart had passed out at the back gate and had to be carried into the building. Hutto said he was first informed that the youth was all right but that only minutes later the infirmary had called to say he was "bad sick" and should be taken to a Pine Bluff hospital. Hutto said he saw Stewart walk from the building to the infirmary.

Hutto said he was told that it had been reported that Stewart had not been "acting right" while working in the field picking cotton. He said he was told Stewart had not worked very much and that once he fell asleep on his cotton sack. Hutto said the youth must have fallen asleep rather than have passed out because the youth awoke when his supervisor called him.

Hutto said the youth was asked if he felt all right and the youth said yes but said he had not slept for a "couple of nights."

Stewart was sent to Cummins under a first-offenders program that gained favor among judges whereby all of a youth's sentence is suspended except for one day at the state prison.

Dr. Rodney Carleton, state

Thursday, December 2, 1971

medical examiner, ruled out Tuesday the possibility of physical violence on Stewart's person as the cause of the youth's death.

South's four no-trump call was Blackwood. It also violated almost every principle of Blackwood. South was void of hearts and you shouldn't use Blackwood with a void. South had a worthless doubleton in clubs and you shouldn't use Blackwood with a worthless doubleton.

In addition, South intended to play in diamonds and it is poor policy to use Blackwood before you have established your suit.

South knew he was violating all these principles but there was method in his madness. It was the seventh and last hand of a Swiss team match and rightly or wrongly South felt that drastic action was necessary.

We hate to record success for this type of bid, but South came out with a 13-IMP swing that won the match.

North jumped to six hearts in response to the four no-trump call. North's bid showed two aces and a void that North felt would be a good one.

South liked this response and went to seven diamonds. When North went into a long riddle, South became apprehensive. Finally North did pass.

South breathed easier now. He had no trouble making the grand slam. Thirteen tricks were made at the other table, but the contract was only six diamonds. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Popcorn Makes A Fine Snack

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb — Our family often substitutes popcorn for a meal, especially instead of Sunday supper and sometimes during the week, too.

For three adults, we use one generous cup of unpopped corn, prepared by popping in three tablespoons of shortening (which is marked "high in polyunsaturates"). This, when prepared, yields about two quarts per person. No butter is added as the oil and salt used in popping give it a sufficiently good flavor.

Your comment, good or bad, on this practice, would be appreciated.

Dear Reader — Thumbs up for popcorn. If you are careful what you pop it in and what you put on it. About 11 per cent of the calories in plain popcorn are from vegetable fat and over half of these are the polyunsaturated type. It is, then, a very low-fat food and what fat it contains is probably beneficial, since the usual American diet contains limited amounts of polyunsaturated fat.

I would recommend popping it in a small amount of cooking oil. Of these, safflower oil contains the least amount of saturated fat and the largest percentage of polyunsaturated fat. Corn oil is about second on the list. Then leave it plain, seasoned with salt.

Castro Causing Riots in Chile, 88 Hurt

By WILLIAM F. NICHOLSON
Associated Press Writer
SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Police went into action with tear gas and water cannon Wednesday night after young leftists attacked 5,000 women protesting food shortages.

At least 88 persons were injured in the night of rioting, including five with gunshot wounds.

In the biggest demonstration yet against Marxist President Salvador Allende's government, the women banged pots and pans together and hooted at posters of visiting Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as they paraded through downtown Santiago.

As the four-block-long parade made its way toward the presidential palace, mobs of leftist youths attacked the women with volleys of stones. This touched off retaliatory attacks by youthful hard hat brigades from the right-wing National party and the Christian Democratic party, the biggest anti-Allende party.

The police called in reinforcements and fired tear gas grenades and water at the women and the young battlers. They scrambled into alleys and entrances of offices and apartment buildings, then rioting spread across the city.

After the parade was dispersed, a group of anti-Marxist youths demonstrated in front of Allende's high-walled suburban mansion. A youth living nearby said he heard gunshots fired from a car, but other neighbors and police said the noise came from half a dozen carloads of women and youths who sped past the residence hurling bags of water and noise bombs.

One of Allende's bodyguards said the president was in the Moneda Palace and not at home.

Breakthrough in Resolving Money Crisis

By FRED COLEMAN
Associated Press Writer
ROME (AP) — Finance ministers from the non-Communist world's richest nations, the Group of Ten, achieved a major breakthrough here toward resolving the international monetary crisis, delegation sources reported today.

For the first time in the 3 1/2 months of deadlock, the United States showed it is prepared to consider devaluing the dollar.

The three-day conference, which ended Wednesday night, agreed to continue the discussions in Washington Dec. 17-18. But the real significance of the Rome meeting, by most official accounts, was a major shift in the U.S. negotiating stand. As a result, the shoe is now on the other foot.

Before the Rome meeting, America's major trading partners were putting all the pressure on the United States to say what it would contribute to a settlement package. The Europeans and the Japanese demanded a dollar devaluation against gold as part of a general currency realignment.

The Americans turned the question around here. They asked the others what they would do if the United States did devalue the dollar. How far would they revalue their currencies upward and what trade restrictions would they remove in return? The same questions will be on the table in Washington.

All the discussions were hypothetical. No one made any commitments. But for the first time, specific figures were thrown out to test reactions. The possibility, and only the possibility, of a dollar devaluation was raised.

U.S. Treasury Secretary John B. Connally dramatized the shift in American bargaining tactics during these probings.

At one point, authoritative sources said, he asked the others what they would do if the United States devalued the dollar 10 per cent. The reaction was stunned silence. The meeting broke up for an hour and 40 minutes.

Throughout the impasse Connally had been the symbol of an absolute American refusal to consider devaluing the dollar by raising the official price of gold, now $35 an ounce.

Connally's mention of a 10 per cent devaluation, was not a serious offer. But it demonstrated that the Americans had opened the negotiations to a wide range of possibilities that had been blocked before.

Tells About Escape from Battle Area

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Nearly 200 miles away from his home base, Capt. Alvin W. Moore II ran from tree to tree, from rice field to rice field, deep inside Cambodia. North Vietnamese bullets whizzed over his head for more than two hours.

His face, right arm and right leg were burned from a flash fire in the cockpit of his light bomber when it was shot down while supporting Cambodian troops 100 miles from the South Vietnamese border.

The 25-year-old pilot from Livingston, Calif., was on a low bombing pass near Kompong Thom. Suddenly his twin-engine jet shook.

"You're on fire!" his wingman radioed. As the flames reached the cockpit, Moore parachuted into the North Vietnamese lines.

The wingman radioed a command plane in the area, and within minutes rescue aircraft were on the way from Bien Hoa, Moore's base in South Vietnam.

Two Jolly Green Giant helicopters swooped down for the pickup, but heavy ground fire forced them back. Their escorting fighter-bombers began pounding the enemy guns.

The Cambodian ground forces knew Moore's approximate location, having been alerted by radio by the American rescue team. Riding armored personnel carriers, they fought their way through the North Vietnamese lines and carried Moore to a secure location.

On a second attempt, a Jolly Green Giant commanded by another California, Capt. Stephen Tyler of Los Angeles, picked Moore up and flew him back to Bien Hoa.

The rescue was made Monday, but the Air Force did not disclose details of the operation until today.

"Except for getting hit," said Moore, "everything went my way all day."

U of SF Athletic Director Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The University of San Francisco's athletic director and former varsity basketball coach, Peter Peletta, has died at age 43 after a two-month illness.

Peletta, appointed to the coaching job in 1960, attained the highest winning percentage of any basketball coach in the history of the university. During five seasons and part of a sixth under his direction, the San Francisco Dons won 69 per cent of their games.

He resigned from active coaching in January 1966 to become athletic director.

Peletta was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital here Nov. 10.

He is survived by his wife Virginia; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John V. Peletta of Sacramento; his brother and three children.

Majors Decides to Remain at Iowa State

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Iowa State University and Johnny Majors ended speculation Wednesday whether the Cyclones' head football coach was moving by agreeing upon a new five-year contract.

Majors, 36, had been rumored as a prime candidate for a coaching vacancy created last week at Baylor University with the firing of Bill Beall.

The new contract extended to Majors runs through December of 1976. Terms of the contract were not disclosed.

Majors' old contract with the university had three years to run.

"There are many reasons for remaining at Iowa State," Majors said in accepting the contract extension. "But the most important to me is my anticipation of a bright future for Iowa State football."

The action by the university came only a day after Majors was named Big Eight Conference 'coach of the Year' by The Associated Press.

Majors had guided Iowa State to 3-7, 3-7, 5-6 and 8-3 seasons. The Cyclones' 43 Big Eight Conference record this season is the school's best in 11 years.

The former Tennessee all-America will also guide the Cyclones in the Sun Bowl Dec. 18 at El Paso, Tex., against 10th-ranked Louisiana State. The bowl berth is the first in the school's 80-year football history.

Rev. W. M. Taylor of Homer, Louisiana; numerous grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Hicks Funeral Inc.

It's Time To Think About Fruitcake

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
This fruitcake has several recommendations. First, from one batch of batter you get three cakes — two for giving and one to keep. Second, its texture is sturdy and that means it cuts well. Third, it has beguiling flavor, due in part to the sherry that goes into the batter and that is sprinkled on the baked cakes during storage. If you make this cake expect a light-colored result. The red glaze cherries and golden raisins included dot slices with pretty color. The coconut added hardly shows but it contributes to the texture and flavor.

- SHERRED FRUITCAKE
1 pound butter
1 3/4 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
7 eggs
5 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons nutmeg
1 cup sweet sherry
1/2 cup unsweetened canned pineapple juice
1 cup (8 ounces) red glaze cherries, halved
1 cup (8 ounces) diced candied orange peel
1 cup (8 ounces) sliced candied pineapple
3 cups (8 ounces) shredded coconut
4 cups (16 ounces) walnut meats, coarsely chopped

Bumpers Mum on Special Meet

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers continues to maintain silence on whether he will call a special session of the legislature amid a public guessing game on whether he will.

A number of legislators are keeping their fingers crossed that he won't.

Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock, chairman of the Legislative Council, said Wednesday he would discourage the governor from summoning the legislators to Little Rock. Brandon believes there will be no special session.

"I think most of the state's needs have been taken care of," Brandon said. "The 1971 legislature has done a better job of solving the needs than any previous session I served in."

He said the General Assembly also gave Bumpers basically enough authority to handle "intermediate problems" that might crop up before the 1972 regular session.

Bumpers has said he would not hesitate to call a special session if the need arose, and reporters have been unable to pin him down on whether he has perceived such need yet.

He has said his office is building a file of items that could be included in the session, if he called one, but that some problem areas that might need legislative attention could wait until 1973. He said his office was checking on three or four other problems to see if they also could wait.

But Bumpers conceded in an interview that it would be "very difficult" to avoid a special session if the courts reject a new state Democratic party rule governing the selection of delegates to next year's Democratic National Convention. The rule calls for no runoff in delegate races where no candidate receives a majority vote. Some Democrats contend state law requires a runoff.

In the event a runoff is required, they argue, state law would have to be changed, since the runoff would not be held until after the convention begins, if he calls a special session.

The governor said he would hope that it would last no more than a week. He said he would limit the call to only a few items.

"If you wanted, you probably could have 100 items," Bumpers said. "But I assure you, we could not have it that way."

Mentioned among the possible candidates for consideration by a special session are amendments to the drug control law, authorization for the governor to spend increased amounts of federal money his administration hopes to obtain and a more permanent solution to the financial problems of the University of Arkansas Medical Center. The administration has

Claims Picasso As Her Father

GRASSE, France (AP) — Paloma Ruiz Picasso has lost a court case in which she sought to be declared the daughter of artist Pablo Picasso.

Paloma, 22, was born to Francoise Gilot at the time she was living with Picasso.

The court heard the case in secret and rendered its ruling Tuesday. A similar request by Paloma's brother, Claude, 24, had been rejected by the same court in April 1970.

A formal recognition of paternity would give Claude and Paloma automatic rights to inheritance under French law.

Picasso has never denied that he was the father but has always refused to make the recognition legal.

THE COMPUTER is a laughing matter in Communist China judging by this official release by Peking purporting to show students at work with a made-in-China product. The accompanying caption explains: "Little workers, aged 14 or 15, dare to think and act, and have produced the marginal ray display element showing digital readings in electronic computer, radar and other meters. It is welcomed by the users."

Abel to Undergo Eye Surgery

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — I.W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers union, will undergo eye surgery to correct a defect in one of his tear ducts.

A union spokesman says Abel will enter the Eye & Ear Hospital on Monday and is expected to be out of the hospital within two days after the operation.

The spokesman said Abel will be required to rest and forego the use of his eyes for about two weeks.

U.S. Supports Conference to Unify Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers has signaled U.S. support for a European security conference that would move toward cutting down the long-standing divisions between East and West Europe.

U.S. strategists long have been cool to repeated Kremlin calls for a general European security parley, partly on grounds that Moscow mainly wants to ratify the Communists' post-World War II hold on East Europe.

In the most specific public U.S. response on the European conference proposal to date, Rogers told an Overseas Writers Club dinner Wednesday night:

"We would firmly oppose any attempt to use it to perpetuate the political and social division of Europe."

"We would see a conference ... as a step on the long road to a new situation—a situation in which the causes of tension are fewer, contacts are greater, and the continent could once more be thought of as Europe rather than as two parts."

And the United States, he said, is prepared to support a special NATO deputy foreign ministers' meeting to consider concrete preparations next year for a European conference if, as expected, the new Berlin access agreement goes into effect.

Rogers leaves Saturday for an annual NATO ministerial meeting in Brussels where the allies will talk about how to proceed on the European conference question and on possible East-West negotiations for mutual force reductions.

Lin Seems to Be Falling from Grace in China

TOKYO (AP) — An editorial on party leadership published today in the leading Chinese Communist journals made no mention of Deputy Party Chairman Lin Biao, indicating that Mao Tse-tung's heir-designate really has fallen from grace.

References to Mao also were subdued, suggesting that the 77-year-old party leader has been slightly downgraded either at his own request or on orders of the party's Central Committee.

Lin's name has not appeared in the Chinese press since Sept. 8 when he, Mao and Premier Chou En-lai sent a joint message of congratulations to North Korea on its national day.

Lin's name was last used in a major official way in an editorial Aug. 1 commemorating the 44th anniversary of the Chinese army. His photo also appeared with Mao's in the Chinese press at that time.

The cancellation of the Communist regime's traditional Oct. 1 National Day parade and the absence of a joint editorial or photos of Lin and Mao at that time indicated a power struggle was under way. There have been widespread but unconfirmed reports since then that the 64-year-old Lin, who is also the defense minister, was on the way out because of his drive in recent years to portray Mao as a sort of god.

Today's editorial, published jointly by the Peking People's Daily, the Liberation Army Daily and the theoretical journal Red Flag, disclosed that for the past year the party has been engaged in a movement "criticizing revisionism and rectifying the style of work."

"There are a few hidden traitors, anti-Socialist and anti-revolutionary elements" within the party, the editorial continued, and the re-education movement extended to "senior" cadres.

"It is necessary especially for members of party committees at all levels to strengthen party concept and place themselves within the party and not outside it, still less above it," it added.

The editorial also stressed that the party leads in all areas of Chinese life, an apparent reference to reports that the army under Lin's leadership was achieving pre-eminence.

The Dallas school district has added Russian and Swahili to language courses for high school pupils at its new $21 million Skyline Center.
